

- Yūkei Hasebe : A View on Buddhism during Ming and Quing dynasties (189)
- Kunihiko Siomi : A Study on the Particle found in “Lín-zílù” (227)
- Katsumi Mori : The Intention of Chōnen, the Priest of Todaiji Temple, for Entrance into China in Song Dynasty (235)
- Jōten Nōtomi : The Manuscript of “Sinyōtōgenki” kept in the Kanazawa Library (241)
- Eijin Ōno : Investigations on “Mó-hē-zhǐ-guān” the Four Kinds of samādhi and its Sources
..... (271)
- Shigeo Kamata : A Study on the “Huá-yán-pǔ-xián-hángyuàn-xiū-zhèng-yí” (305)
- Hajime Nakamura: A Tendency toward Popularization (319)
- Kōshirō Tamaki : A Religious Cosmos (331)
- Noboru Inaba : Zen and the Study of Business management (343)
- Shōson Miyamoto : The Middle Way and Zen (355)
- Akira Hirakawa : Zen and the Buddhist Precept (363)
- Seiichirō Ōnishi, Yoshitoshi Emi, Naohito Chino :
A Structural Analysis on the Behaviour of Zen Practice (379)
- Yūhō Yokoi : “Gakudō-Yōjin-shū” (414)
-

Journal of the Research Institute for Zen Aichigakuin University

(Zen Kenkyusho Kiyo)

No. 6.7 1976

Contents

- Kōdō Kurebayashi : The Soblicitude for another's welfare of Zen Master Gikai, and Keizan's Everyday Mind (1)
- Shōkin Furuta : Zen Master Sensō-Esai..... (9)
- Hakudō Tajima : A Study of Zen Master Gangoku-Kankei, and Shinpōji Temple in Owari Province, on the Basis of New Material..... (19)
- Jundō Ogisu : Hakuin-Zen and Nembutsu..... (43)
- Ikudō Tajima : How to write out the names of Persons found in "Denkōroku" (53)
- Nobutora Kanbe : A Memorandum of "Fukanzazengi" (3)
..... (75)
- Kōhū Kawaguchi : Materials for the Study of Precepts, and Movements of research Activities in Sōtō school of Zen (93)
- Genryū Kagamishima : The Compilation of "Bai-zhang-qing= gūi" the Pure Regulations of Zen, and its Significance (117)
- Shusai Yokoyama : The Composition of Zen Cathedrals and Monasteries in Song Dynasty (135)
- Tetuo Suzuki : The Transition of Zen Schools in the Province of Zhe-jiang (153)